

HOVER MONARCHISM BLAMED FOR DEBT MIDDLE PEOPLE

EDITOR REPLIES TO HEARST EXPOSE OF PLOT

By GEORGE W. HINMAN, JR.
Universal Service Special Cable
Paris, July 19.—Camille Aymard, publisher of La Liberte, conservative newspaper and voice of the campaign against further payment of war debts to America and Great Britain, today blamed President Hoover for Europe's united front against the United States on war debts.

Aymard, after consulting friends in political and financial circles, made this assertion in reply to the statement of William Randolph Hearst in a radio speech Saturday night that Europe is engaged in a "crooked conspiracy" on war debts to rob the American people.

ADMITS HEARST CHARGES

Aymard declared: "Mr. Hearst's opinions are undoubtedly those of the majority of Americans. Mr. Hearst says, first, that America was the winner in France would deny all America did for us, but her aid was above all moral and psychological. Can we compare American loans in killed some French million and a half?"

"America spent thousands of millions of dollars on the war, says Mr. Hearst, and even more afterward for European rehabilitation."

"This is quite true."

"But if the American soldiers had been there soon enough, so many of America's billions would not have been needed. I am discussing not only France, whose debts have been multiplied unbelievably, but also England, whose debt is fourfold what it was before the war."

"It was former President Wilson who imposed the peace, charging Germany with the guilt of the war, because Germany was most guilty—but it was President Hoover who lifted from Germany's back the costs of the war but not the guilt."

"Mr. Hearst says: If the present Allied policy triumphs, America, which won the war, will pay more than Germany, which lost. He does not want America to play the role of dupe."

HE BLAMES HOOVER

"That's just the way we French feel. We do not want to be dupes in this financial comedy, either."

"Thanks to President Hoover, Germany, with 50,000,000 inhabitants, has now only a $3,000,000, 000 internal debt."

"It thanks to Mr. Hoover that Germany, which lost the war, has won the peace."

"America is now disgraced because those who expected to receive from Germany reparations with which to pay America, will no longer receive them, and are now looking for relief from this unbearable burden."

"The fatal consequences originated with the Hoover monetaryism, and perhaps it is too late to complain, for there is an old French proverb which says, 'once the wine has been drawn, we must drink it.'"

Britain Will Pay—If U. S. Insists on It

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

Universal Service Special Cable
London, July 19.—If the American government insists on payment of war debts by European nations bound in the new four-power entente and the once secret "gentlemen's agreement" against the

Mellon to Put Debt Cut Plea to Hoover

London, July 19 (AP).—Andrew W. Mellon, American ambassador, is sailing for home on the Majestic tomorrow to lay before President Hoover personally Europe's urgent plea for drastic reduction in war debts owed the United States.

This was learned from reliable sources shortly after the unexpected announcement of Mellon's departure was made. He is going to Washington, where he will spend the season. Mr. Mellon was in the bond business up to recently.

OTHERS ARE SILENT

With the exception of Lansbury, British politicians carefully refrained from commenting on Mr. Hearst's speech. In some circles it was said the apparent conspiracy among European capitalists to remain silent on their exposed secret diplomacy extended even to keeping quiet about Mr. Hearst's charge. Lansbury, however, was anxious to comment on Mr. Hearst's charge. "I am certain of one thing. Supporting the American people through their government, in fact Europe shall pay her debts to America. There is one country, namely Britain, which will pay."

"I personally don't agree with this view, but the ordinary people of this country will adopt it."

SEES RUIN IN PAY

"If Mr. Hearst thinks again, he will agree neither the United States nor ourselves can take payments from debtor countries without ruining them and ourselves. The world is in an unholty mess. If we restart business on the basis of a fair exchange of goods between countries, through their government, it can only bring prosperity to a handful and untold misery to the great majority."

Lansbury assailed Mr. Hearst's statement that if the Allies succeed in getting cancellation of the $12,000,000,000 due America, they will succeed in paying to the backs of American people the costs of the war, keeping American taxpayers in financial bondage for a generation.

Rep. Steagall Fights Debt Cancellation

Washington, July 19.—Cancellation of war debts involves such a betrayal of the American people's public official who has a part in such a program should be refused to private life. Representative Steagall (D., Ala.), chairman of the House committee on banking and currency, declared today. "I am in full accord with Mr. William Randolph Hearst in opposition to the cancellation of the

Semi-Society Notes

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

MR. HENRY MORTON BOWEN, who is taking up painting at his new summer home at Gloucester where he will spend the season. Mr. Bowen was in the bond business up to recently.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

MR. HOWELL E. GATLONG, JR., has been acting as one of the patrons at a bridge at North End street, N.H.

MR. FLEET MACFETH, former customer's man for a Boston house, will spend the summer season along the beaches.

MR. CARL M. ANGLON, S. DENTON, JR., and daughter, will spend the summer at her cottage.

TODAY

Continued From First Page

The London police by their own choice, carry no revolvers. And criminals are rarely captured with deadly weapons because they are afraid to use them. In England if you shoot anybody you are hanged. Here you hire a good criminal lawyer and shoot somebody else later.

More rioting in Liverpool by Protestants, trying to prevent dedication of the Anglican Cathedral. At first Orangemen were said to have attacked the Catholic Cathedral. It was the Anglican Cathedral, dedicated to a branch of the English Protestant Episcopal Church that leans far over in the Catholic direction.

While the Bishop of Liverpool, dedicating the biggest cathedral in England, sang hymns, marching around the church, indignant Protestants sang "Dare to be a Daniel."

Some of the words, as the writer remembers them from the Baptist Sunday school in Fairwood, New Jersey, are "Dare to be a Daniel, dare to stand alone, dare to have a purpose firm, dare to make it known."

The Liverpool Protestants made it known the wrong way, throwing bricks through beautiful stained glass windows.

Devotees of one religion seem unable to let believers in other religions alone. There cannot possibly be more than ONE God, and such fights must annoy Him.

(Copyright, 1932, King Feature Synd., Inc.)

Ziegfeld Better in Pleurisy Attack

Hollywood, July 19 (AP).—Slight improvement in the condition of Florenz Ziegfeld, New York musical comedy producer, was reported today by his physician, Ziegfeld, suffering from complications arising from an attack of pleurisy, was brought here Sunday night from a New Mexico sanatorium.

BEATEN WOMAN AND SON

Mrs. Hizenaki with her son, Joseph, in Nassau Hospital. Joseph Hizenaki is a detective—and has been suspended pending Edwards' examination, which was opened before Supreme Court Justice Steinbrink yesterday.

VICTIM GOES TO GRAVE

Casket containing the body of Stark, being taken from the funeral parlors for burial. Meanwhile, Edwards declares there will be no "whitewashing" for the police implicated in the probe of alleged cruelty.

(International News Photos.)

GOV. ROOSEVELT TO SPEED UP CAMPAIGN

Democratic Presidential Nominee Plans to Speak First on the West Coast

Albany, July 19 (INB).—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt returned to his desk in the Capitol today determined to dispose of pending state business speedily, then plunge into the presidential campaign.

If his duties permit, he is expected to deliver his first campaign speech on the Pacific Coast in the middle of August.

He has tentatively agreed to attend the Olympic games in Los Angeles, but may have to alter his plans if Mayor James Walker says his answer to the removal charges filed by Samuel Seabury.

It is believed the governor will request the mayor to come to the Capitol later in the summer for a public hearing.

Gov. Roosevelt was officially silent today over the signing of the State of the Union message.

"Nothing to say," he answered reporters.

The governor told friends, however, he was "not so far wrong" when he declared ten days ago he had "inside information" that the signing of the treaty was a matter of only a few days.

Hints have come that the governor must issue a statement of opposition to ratification of the treaty by the Senate until New York state's share of the power development cost has been determined.

SPURNED BY HOOVER

Before he embarked last week on his cruise to New England the governor telegraphed President Hoover suggesting they confer at the White House on New York's share of the cost. The President flatly rejected the proposal.

Roosevelt has taken the position that unless New York gets a "fair deal" from the Federal government in determining its share of the power development cost, the state will be blocked from providing cheaper electricity for homes and industries.

Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier, was an overruling spokesman of Gov. Roosevelt at the executive mansion. It is understood they discussed campaign finances and Baruch is understood to have advised the Governor to deliver only a half dozen major speeches in various parts of the country.

Although the removal of the threatened "young man" from Albany was closely guarded, the alleged extortionist arrived there immediately and also displayed a thorough knowledge of the police plans to trap him in this city.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 19 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor will adhere this year to its usual policy of non-partisanship in presidential campaigns.

The decision to remain neutral in the coming campaign was reached yesterday by the executive council. Only once in its history when it supported the late Robert M. La Follette for presidency has the federation departed from this policy.

Careful consideration, William Green federation president, said, was given at the meeting to the plans of both major parties.

KIDNAP THREAT IS TRACED TO R. I. RING

Providence Gangsters Suspected in Comstock Extortion Attempts

Providence, July 19.—A well known Rhode Island extortion ring was today suspected of investigating the demands for $35,000 from George Comstock, wealthy stock breeder, under threat of kidnapping his 17-year-old son, George Comstock, Jr.

The youth, who was being kept under surveillance of Rhode Island state police, and his uncle, William J. Banour, at Comstock's Inn, Falmouth, was moved from the inn last night and is today located in a secret Rhode Island hideout.

The extortion ring has flourished for several years in Rhode Island, police declared, mainly because its victims hesitate to call police into their confidence.

THREATS WERE HIDDEN

Deputy Chief Edward Kelly declared that although the Comstock family has been receiving communications since last January, police have had not yet been officially notified of the extortion attempts. He pointed out that the complaint of a local business man in a similar case resulted in the rapid arrest of five alleged extortionists.

NO MONEY PLANTED

Boston postal officials denied that postal inspectors had been assigned. Police declared no money had been planted on the Cape to trace the extortionists but admitted they had been asked to watch a "drop" box at the Falmouth post office.

Theories that the whole affair was a hoax were also receiving considerable discussion today. Police officers here and in Massachusetts pointed out that the writer of the notes to the Comstocks displayed a startling knowledge of all the movements of the family and investigators.

Although the removal of the threatened "young man" from Albany was closely guarded, the alleged extortionist arrived there immediately and also displayed a thorough knowledge of the police plans to trap him in this city.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 19 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor will adhere this year to its usual policy of non-partisanship in presidential campaigns.

The decision to remain neutral in the coming campaign was reached yesterday by the executive council. Only once in its history when it supported the late Robert M. La Follette for presidency has the federation departed from this policy.

Careful consideration, William Green federation president, said, was given at the meeting to the plans of both major parties.

Here Is Camera Story of Third Degree Killing of New York Youth Accused of Beating Detective's Mother

ALARM
Sophie Rykowski, who gave the alarm when a youth beat and robbed Mrs. Valere Hizenaki.

THEN THESE FOUR WERE CAPTURED NEARBY
all were brutally beaten, and Stark slain. Yesterday District Attorney Edwards opened his inquiry into the death of Hyman Stark—in public. The youths are shown in the police lineup.

BEATEN WOMAN AND SON
Mrs. Hizenaki with her son, Joseph, in Nassau Hospital. Joseph Hizenaki is a detective—and has been suspended pending Edwards' examination, which was opened before Supreme Court Justice Steinbrink yesterday.

VICTIM GOES TO GRAVE
Casket containing the body of Stark, being taken from the funeral parlors for burial. Meanwhile, Edwards declares there will be no "whitewashing" for the police implicated in the probe of alleged cruelty.

(International News Photos.)

MOTHER LOVE AIDS LAW IN PRISON BABY COLONY

DEFIES MOVIE MOGULS

Ann Dvorak and her husband, Leslie Fenton, shown on arrival in New York from Hollywood. Miss Dvorak assailed "slave driving" of film magnates, said a contract was a sentence to hard labor and declared she would take a rest in Europe. (International News Photos.)

What-a-Man Traveled When Ma's Sock Was Unraveled

Los Angeles, July 19 (AP)—Her divorce complaint filed in the county clerk's office, Mrs. Minnie (Ma) Kennedy Hudson, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, said she looked back today regretfully on her life with Guy Edward Hudson, whom she once described as "What a Man."

"If I'd only married 'What a Man' sooner, I might have had a chance to prevent him from becoming 'What a Flop,'" said Mrs. Hudson. They married a year ago.

The complaint of the evangelist's mother charges Hudson with excessive drinking, mental cruelty and abusive profanity.

She labeled Hudson a "dimwit boy" and a "vagabond lover" who had worn out her bankroll—"old sock," she called it—and said "What-a-Man" had started to travel when it began to unravel.

"I'm not only love broke—I'm financially broke. It was 'Gimme, gimme, gimme' from the first night of my second honeymoon. I knew I couldn't last then. But I always stick by my bargain. I hoped I could straighten Mr. Hudson out and get him into some business where he could make his own way, but he devoted me, spent the money I gave him for liquor and when I remonstrated he threatened my life."

When Hudson heard of the action, tears came to his eyes. He said:

"I refused to be a kept husband and insisted on going to work. That's what caused our trouble."

UNITED WITH MOTHERS IN PRISON These two children are members of the baby colony at Sherborn Reformatory for Women, where their mothers are inmates. With them is Gwendolyn Mason, supervisor of the Sherborn nursery.

CHILDREN SPUR PARENTS TO REFORM

Expert Care and Training for 47 Youngsters at Sherborn

By RUTH MUGGERIDGE Walls do not a prison make, not, at least, for 47 mothers at Sherborn Reformatory for Women.

With them in what is known as "mothers' corridor" are laughing, lovable, young ones, oblivious of their penal surroundings and ever knowing the caressing arms of a mother.

REUNITED BY COURT

After a South Boston young woman won a court's permission to have with her in her prison cell her 16-month-old baby, it was learned that she was not alone in exercising the greatest of love. In a section apart these mothers live with their children, all under two years.

Believing that a child will help a mother develop the finest side of her character, and help her avoid future clashes with the law, prison officials encourage imprisoned mothers to send for their little ones.

There was great rejoicing in the cell of Beulah Kelly Bergin today, for she was to move to "mothers' corridor" to await her red-headed boy, "Bunny Boodles," who was ordered reunited with her by Judge Winfield Watkins.

KNOW MOTHER'S LOVE

Sherborn has for many years housed a group of babies—baby girls, baby boys, white and colored, dark and fair.

They are thoroughly normal children. They cry like other babies. They smile like other babies. And under a ruling of the reformatory, they know like other children the caressing warmth of mother's love.

On arriving at the institution, the babies are placed in isolation for three weeks while prison hospital authorities might check for contagious diseases.

From there they go to the nursery, a bright, cheerful, sunny room, in which they romp and revel. Or, without, on the soft carpet of green where young feet may toddle and run.

EXPERTS IN CHARGE

Trained nurses, nursery supervisor and doctors are all at work to give them "that contact" that psychologists and psychiatrists write volumes upon volumes about. The nursery school, still under construction, is the experimental project of Miss Gwendolyn Mason, formerly of Radcliffe College, who directs habit training and constructive play for these young prisoners.

Under the supervision of Dr. Helen Westling, in charge of the hospital, are the children kept strong and vigorous.

"And now for the prison mothers, those unfortunate women whose indiscretions have placed them behind prison walls.

"I refused to be a kept husband and insisted on going to work. That's what caused our trouble."

SLEEP WITH BABIES

They, too, find happiness, want little happiness can still be had when liberty is denied. From 8:30 at night until 1:30 in the morning, mother and child occupy the same cot.

Continued on Page 4, Column 2

VETS STICK TO POSTS IN FIGHT FOR BONUS

Although Congress has moved out of the Capitol without authorizing bonus payments, destitute war veterans of the B. E. F. are shown continuing their demonstrations, and in the face of stiffer police methods. The police order is "keep moving."

ANN DVORAK SCORES FILMS

New York, July 19—Blister in her denunciation of the "slave-driving" methods of Hollywood, Ann Dvorak, newcomer among the film stars, arrived on board the Panama Pacific liner Virginia on "French leave."

When she left California suddenly two weeks ago, it was reported she had broken her contract because she objected to getting only $250 a week when Warner Brothers had leased her services from Howard Hughes for $1000 a week.

That she declared on her arrival was not the reason of her desertion. She said:

"After one and a half years of grinding work, it was absolutely necessary I have a rest. One doesn't get a vacation in Hollywood unless he takes it. They would let me go on working forever if they had their way."

GIRL VICTIM IS TAKEN FOR RIDE

Woodmere, N. Y., July 19 (AP)—A smartly-dressed girl of 21 was "taken for a ride" early today and, as she lay apparently dying, in St. Joseph's Hospital, she required detectives' attempts to find out who shot her.

"Go away and let us sleep," she said. "I'm not going to die."

The girl, who said she was Rose Wasserstein of the Sea Breeze Hotel, Connetquot Island, was shot while in an automobile and was dragged 35 feet to a clump of bushes.

Couples in parked automobiles near Woodmere dock, not far from Long Beach, Long Island, said a small car pulled up, parked a moment and then several shots were heard.

Back to Hospital

Lieut. Comdr. Frank Hawks, speed flier injured in a crack-up near Worcester a short time ago, must return to a hospital for treatment of his jaw, he revealed when he arrived in Los Angeles to direct construction of a new speed plane.

Zoo Refuses to Get Rid of Man-Killers

Cleveland, July 19 (AP)—The recent killing of a caretaker by a bear in the Cleveland Zoo, and of another keeper by a gnu in the Detroit zoo, brought a proposal last night from a councilman, to get rid of all the "vicious animals."

The proposal was rejected.

MONKS VANISHES AGAIN; NEGRESS WIFE STILL HELD

JAP CHAUFFEUR HIDES HIM ON HER ORDERS

Wealthy Boston Relatives Cast No Light on Strange Racial Romance in California

While wealthy Boston relatives were seeking more information about his wife, booked by San Francisco police as a negress, Allan B. Monks, missing nearly two years and then found again—disappeared again today at Long Beach, Cal.

Monks was located yesterday by Long Beach police after his long absence, but police said they had no instructions to arrest him for San Diego police, who have issued a warrant charging him, his wife and one called Willy Lee Watson, with issuing a worthless check.

Today, at the Long Beach apartment where Monks was found suffering from an abdominal ailment, Watson admitted that Monks had vanished again through aid of the Japanese chauffeur who had hidden him away on orders of Mrs. Monks.

WIFE BLAMES KIN

Dr. George H. Monks, of Commonwealth ave., Back Bay, told the Boston Evening American he knew nothing about the marriage of Monks, who was a socially prominent family here 30 years ago to

He declared there was also some questions as to whether Monks had ever married the woman, known as Marie Gerardo, Marie Ledoux and once dubbed the "Catalpa queen of the Imperial valley." He said he did not know anything about any money Monks had on deposit in Boston banks and added that he knew very little about him.

Mrs. Monks, held in the San Francisco jail, broke her silence today and declared that members of Monks' family, furious because he had married her, were trying to get him back to Boston to sign away his share of the family estate. She said she had hidden him to defeat efforts of his family to kidnap him.

FACE CHIEF CHARGE She declined to discuss the basis of the family attitude, saying that it concerned an incident in which Monks was involved before their marriage.

She, Monks and Watson are charged with issuing a worthless $115 check. An account maintained for him in a Boston bank was closed when the family demanded that Mrs. Monks produce their relative after checks signed by her began to appear.

The checks continued to be issued and were returned unpaid to persons in California. The charges followed.

Boy Chums Sought By Winthrop Police

Police are searching today for 14-year-old George O'Donnell, of Cottage ave., Winthrop, who disappeared from the summer school session of the Paris St. school, East Boston, Monday morning, returning to Winthrop to be joined by his chum, Dennis Barker, of Marshall St.

The O'Donnells reported their missing son to the Winthrop police at midnight.

FIND BODY OF CURTIS BOND IS SIGNED BY WIFE

Norfolk, Va., July 19 (AP)—Cheerful, but showing effects of his confinement two months in jail at Flemington, N. J., John Hughes Curtis arrived in Norfolk today to assist in raising funds for an appeal from this sentence on conviction of obstructing justice in the Lindbergh baby kidnapping murder case.

Curtis was released on $10000 bail, furnished by a surety company. He was accompanied here by representatives of the bonding company. The guarantee for the bond was arranged by eight Norfolk citizens and signed by Mrs. Curtis.

She has been ill most of the time since her husband's arrest on May 18 and until today had not seen him since he left Norfolk on May 7 with Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

The discovery was made, according to San Gerónimo dispatches, by a searching party which has been combing the jungle since Monks was found last Thursday, in a starving condition, by an Indian woodsman.

The searchers located the plane several miles from where Monks was found.

McElroy, who is recovering at San Gerónimo, is partially delirious and was unable to aid them.

NEW OPERATION FOR HAWKS

Los Angeles, July 19—Lieut. Comdr. Frank M. Hawks, here to direct construction of a new speed plane, declared he would enter a hospital soon for an operation on his jaw.

Hawks was injured several months ago when his plane was wrecked in an attempted takeoff. He said an effort would be made to give him a better "wing" movement.

Hawks' plane crashed near Worcester, Mass., and he was in a Worcester hospital for some time, later undergoing plastic surgery treatments in Boston.

Pope Receives Five

Mass. Women Vatican City, July 19 (AP)—Mrs. Arthur Pagnon of Whitman, Mass., sister of Monignor Francis J. Spellman, who is attached to the Vatican, was received today by Pope Pius.

The pontiff also received Mrs. Edmund P. Fitzgibbon, Mrs. Harold Fitzgibbon and Miss Agnes Fitzgibbon all of Whitman, and Miss Mary Mary of Brockton, Mass.

Call for Details Costs Council $75

North Bay, Ont., July 19 (AP)—The City Council has just been taught a lesson in costs. When the municipal health officer submitted a $40 expense account after a trip, it was returned with a request for details.

Back it came, and the doctor had added $75, representing an accounting for three days away from his practice.

Babies Turn Prison Into Nursery

Mothers love is a factor to be reckoned with in a reformatory, and these three babies are placed in their mother's care every evening at Sherborn. During the day they romp about a nursery or the lawns

As Law Exacts Toll From Their Mothers

PRISON LIFE UNKNOWN TO BABY INMATES Although they officially live in the Sherborn Reformatory, these tots are so far removed from prison environment that they are unlikely ever to recall in later life. Health and recreational supervision insures their getting "a chance" that their mothers probably failed to get.

CRUELTY OF HIRD DEGREE DEATH BARED

Continued from First Page.

Wounded guests were accused of beating and robbing of $4 and a ring, admitting on the stand. He twice attacked Clark on the day the latter was arrested.

He said, however, he only "slapped him in the face." He denied inflicting the injury which fractured Clark's arm and caused his death.

Clark's body, according to official evidence, bore many red welts, bruises and black spots. The three companions who identified their lives as those who slugged them showed evidence of violence. Their eyes were blacked, their faces and bodies bore bruises and marks.

With policemen apparently reluctant to testify, many displaying poor memory on points which happened within a day or two in their presence, and conflict evident in their stories, Justice Steinbrink several times before adjournment said the tangled tales gave every evidence that perjury was being committed.

The justice declared he would weigh the testimony and announce his decision tomorrow.

District Attorney Edwin N. Edwards said if he has for charging homicide or perjury.

If the policemen involved were found by Justice Steinbrink to have committed perjury, he would call a special session of the county grand jury.

HULL CONTESTS INDICTMENT

A motion to quash the indictment against John C. Hull, director of the state securities division, caused a postponement today of his arraignment on a charge of conspiracy with his son, John C. Hull, Jr., a broker, and others.

John T. Hull and Jensen were arraigned, however, and pleaded not guilty. Hull was set for $1000 each by Chief Justice Walter P. Hall, in Suffolk Superior Court.

When nite elder Hull was called, J. Weston Allen, Jr., attorney, said: "Just a minute, your honor, I don't want my client to plead until I have heard on this motion to quash."

He asked a chance to argue immediately, but Judge Hall ruled that that. The motion to quash was settled to an opportunity to study the motion with the state as the date for arguments.

The two Hulls, Jensen, Edwin T. McKnight and John B. Eaton, Sr., were charged in the indictment with conspiring to violate the securities acts, in that John T. Hull, as salesman, and Jensen, as broker, should sell Bedford Trust Co. stock at an exorbitant price.

Quarries Closed in Try to End Strike

To an attempt to force a settlement of the strike of Quincy granite workers, Quincy granite quarries have closed down nearly all of the 100 plants and quarries in the city. More than 200 workers of whom 80 were working, are affected by the action.

R.H. WHITE CO.

Beginning Wednesday

the most drastic STOCKTAKING SALE

in our three-quarters of a century history reductions of 1/3, 1/2 and more from original prices

Our regular SEMI-ANNUAL STOCKTAKING CLEARANCE true, but the most drastic, the most terrific price slashing event in our entire history of three-quarters of a century. In times like these we cannot, we will not keep merchandise on hand longer than one season. All must be sold regardless of the cost, regardless of the price. So Wednesday, at 9 sharp, these markdowns go on sale. Almost all of it bought for the current season, almost all of it therefore, good, seasonable, valuable merchandise; some shopworn and handled, but nothing that a trip to the laundry won't cure. Prices slashed from 33 1/3 to 50%, and more at the latter than at the former reductions. . . . some even more. We advise early shopping for best choice.

Ready all through the store Wednesday at 9 from the Thrift Basement to the Sunny Fifth Floor

Jolt Criminal, Says Hard-Boiled Judge

Milwaukee, O., July 19 (AP)—"Hard-boiled" justice with "thick-skinned" criminal, was defended today by Judge Robert L. Fulton.

"These persons can be educated into respect for law, others have to be jolted into it," he said. "If it takes a jolt, then allow things to drift."

Two weeks ago, Fulton gave James Wynn, 31, and William Wynn, 28, brothers, their choice between 15 years with a hard labor, or a jail term, for stealing a refrigerator. They chose the latter.

47 IN PRISON BABY COLONY

Continued from Page 3

room. Some rooms are decorated with stuffed dolls and hung pictures. In each room is "mother's" corridor" are two beds. A big bed for the mother. A little crib for the baby.

And so mother live goes on at home and in the prison. Inmates of children whose babies are with them are members of the "mother's" club, formed to assist them firmly the ties between them and their babies. Inmates of problems pertinent to babyhood, problems that even prison mothers have with prison babies.

Dr. Miriam Van Waters, who came from California, where she was an associate justice, is superintendent of the institution. She has many new ideas of prison reform and rehabilitation of inmates.

CLINICS FOR BABIES

Explaining the experimental nursery school soon to begin opening, Miss Mason said:

"I have never been here a very short time, but my work will be preventive, in character. The nursery school will be a separate building. It will contain two large rooms, a bathroom and a kitchen. It will be a training clinic where youngsters will be psychologically read to be sent to the state hospital."

"Miss Anne Gladding, who conducted an experimental nursery school at Smith College, will work with me here. And as Tennessee once said: 'He lived with such a mother Faith in womanhood here as I have.'"

And there in all things high comes easy to him, and though he tries and fails, He shall not blind his soul with day."

Borah Would Attend Hoover Ceremonies

Washington, July 19 (AP)—Administration circles today saw a possible hint of a reconciliation between President Hoover and Senator Borah of Idaho. Borah said that if invited he would attend President Hoover's notification ceremonies.

SWEAT DEATH POLICE GUARD CAPTAIN HAS AT FUNERAL OF AT FURNACE NO STABING AT FURNACE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON International News Service Staff Correspondent

Tallahassee, Fla., July 19 (AP)—Capt. George W. Courson, indicted in a suburban for the alleged "torture murder" of Arthur Mallett, young New Jersey convict, was legally in command of the Sunbeam prison camp when the boy strangled in a sweat box.

State records disclosed Courson was never commissioned as a camp captain or even as a prison guard. The law of Florida provides that only a commissioned officer or guard may act in such a post of command.

His legal status of Courson, when he whipped young Mallett, and imposed the punishment that resulted in his death, was confirmed by Capt. B. H. Dickens, superintendent of state road prisons.

HAD NO LEGAL RIGHTS

Dickens admitted Courson had no legal right to take command of the camp and held no official position when he inflicted the "torture chamber" punishment.

"Courson was relieved by Capt. John F. Baker temporarily," said Dickens. "He didn't hold a commission either as a captain or as a guard. He didn't know the difference."

"He was employed temporarily as captain of the Sunbeam camp by M. P. Phillips, division engineer of the State road department, who didn't know the law. Phillips didn't even know that Courson had no commission."

This revelation places Courson in a peculiar position.

He had no moral authority to order Mallett to work or to punish him even in the form prescribed by state law as ordered by a bystander. Authorities were agreed the status of Courson would play an important part in his trial on a first degree murder charge.

CONDEMNED DEAD YOUTH

While Dickens was frank about Courson he condemned Mallett as a "bad actor and one of the worst prisoners we ever had."

"Mallett came from a section where the Lindbergh baby was kidnapped and murdered," said Dickens. "He was a burglar and killed the law. He attempted suicide twice and tried to escape three times. He slung would not submit to the law."

"Courson is a man of good principles and good morals. But he relied on his muscle. He was misled by the law. He had no right to use a chain on Mallett. I think his only intention was to keep the boy safe and I think that was demonstrated by his willingness to sell everything he did to the boy."

Son Strikes Father on Head With Axe

Cleveland, July 19 (AP)—Infuriated, police said, because his father was admonished, Andrew Hudak, 20, struck his father, John Hudak, 64, on the head with an axe last night, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

25¢ MEAT SALE

STRICTLY FRESH KILLED—SEASON'S BEST

Broilers LB. 25¢

BONELESS ROAST—FOR OVEN OR POT

Undercut LB. 25¢

GENUINE SPRING—FOREQUARTER CUTS

Lamb Chops LB. 25¢

Cube Steaks Cook One Minute on Each Side LB. 25¢

Spare Ribs Corned 3 LBS. 25¢

Bacon Piece or Strip 2 LBS. 25¢

FRESHLY GROUND

Hamburg 2 LBS. 25¢

FRESHLY SLICED

Swordfish LB. 25¢

Frankfurts freshly made 2 LBS. 25¢

Minced Ham sliced 2 LBS. 25¢

Potato Salad 2 LBS. 25¢

Lamb's Liver sliced 2 LBS. 25¢

Prices effective in Boston and Vicinity

A & P MEAT MARKETS The Great ATLANTIC & PACIFIC Tea Co.

Another A&P value event

25¢ SALE

price effective for Boston and Vicinity

Nectar Tea	Orange Pekoe or Gayles	2	1/2 LB. PKGS.	25¢
Dill Pickles		2	QT. JARS	25¢
Tuna Fish	Sultana	2	NO. 1/2 CANS	25¢
Chili Sauce	Quaker Maid	2	12 OZ. BOTS.	25¢
Rajah Sandwich Spread		2	8 OZ. JARS	25¢
Plain Olives		2	6 OZ. JARS	25¢
NBC Fig Bars	California	2	POUNDS	25¢
Topmast Sardines		2	CANS	25¢
A&P Grape Juice	pink	2	BOTTLES	25¢
Medium Red Salmon		2	NO. 35 CANS	25¢
Wheaties		2	PKGS.	25¢
Grapefruit		2	NO. 3 CANS	25¢
Selox or Ivory Snow		2	PKGS.	25¢

A little money can go a long way at A&P Food Stores—here's proof. Buy things that only A&P can offer in such quantities at such a price even in these days of lower prices. Shop early to avoid any disappointment.

Potatoes 15 LBS. 25¢

Lux SMALL 3 PKGS. 25¢

Rinso SMALL 3 PKGS. 25¢

CIGARETTES 2 PKGS. 25¢

Shrimp Iona Peas Beans QUAKER MAID 3 LARGE CANS 25¢

Ivory Soap 3 10 OZ. CAKES 25¢

Tomatoes 3 NO. 3 CANS 25¢

Campbell's Tomato Juice 3 CANS 25¢

Rice Krispies 3 PKGS. 25¢

Marshmallow Fluff 3 SM. CANS 25¢

Grape Fruit Juice 3 CANS 25¢

Franco American Spaghetti 3 CANS 25¢

Dainty Filled Wafers NBC 3 PKGS. 25¢

10c Candy Values 3 for 25¢

Wax Lunch Rolls 3 PKGS. 25¢

Good Luck Jar Rings 3 PKGS. 25¢

Salad Educators

Cardinal Dainties

Cheese Educators

EDUCATOR COMBINATION 3 PKGS. 25¢

Sparkle 4 PKGS. 25¢

Iona Corn Brillo 4 NO. 3 CANS 25¢

String Beans 4 IONA NO. 3 CANS 25¢

Ketchup QUAKER MAID 4 8 OZ. BOT. 25¢

Blue Peter Sardines 4 CANS 25¢

Green Beans No. 1 4 CANS 25¢

Wax Beans No. 1 4 CANS 25¢

Palmolive Soap 4 Cakes 25¢

Old Dutch Cleanser 4 CANS 25¢

A & P MEAT MARKETS

A & P FOOD STORES of NEW ENGLAND

The Great ATLANTIC & PACIFIC Tea Company

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

Bananas 5 LBS. 25¢

Oranges DOZEN 25¢

Tomatoes 4 LBS. 25¢

Apples New Green Cooking 7 LBS. 25¢

Cantaloupes Medium 3 for 25¢

AT A&P MARKETS ONLY

California Gravenstein

Apples 4 LBS. 25¢

C. L. HAMILTON LAID TO REST IN MALDEN

Funeral services for Charles L. Hamilton, president of the Cultures Corp., were held today at the First Baptist Church, Malden.

Business in general throughout Malden was suspended during the services.

Rep. Charles H. Moser, D., former pastor of the church, was in charge of the services and a Knights Templar service was in charge of Robert Gardner Wilson, commander of Boston Commandery, of which Mr. Hamilton was a past commander.

Honorary pallbearers were Samuel M. Best, vice-president of the Potter Drug & Chemical Corp., of which Mr. Hamilton was the head; William D. Gooch, treasurer of the company; Frank A. Hayward of the Civil Service Commission; Edmund H. Talbot, of Massachusetts, general counsel for the George B. White estate, of which Mr. Hamilton was a trustee; Frederick H. Briggs, past grand commander of the Knights Templars; Harry W. Heister of New York city; and Philip of Watertown, past master of Mt. Olive lodge, of which Mr. Hamilton was a past master, and William H. Glover, president of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, of which Mr. Hamilton was trustee.

Employees of the Potter Drug Co. attended in a body and the big factory in Malden was closed all day.

Burial was at Forest Hills Cemetery.

JEHOI INVADED BY JAP ARMY

Tokyo, July 10 (AP)—The Japanese army has begun an invasion of the Province of Jehoi, last occupied section of Manchuria, and has clashed there with Chinese troops.

Dispatches from Mukden said a battle took place just inside the Jehoi boundary line. The Japanese were reported to have driven back the Jehoi troops and marched toward Peiping, a branch terminus of the Mukden-Chinese railway.

The purpose was reported to be the rescue of Genshiro Ishimoto, a former Japanese army officer, believed captured by Chinese.

A dispatch to the newspaper Asahi from Mukden said Ishimoto, now a civilian employee of the army, was sent to Peiping some time ago to arrange for selling opium from Jehoi in markets other than Peiping.

Peiping, July 10 (AP)—Twenty-one trainloads of Japanese soldiers from Mukden were transported over the Tientsin and Peiping railways today and yesterday to Tientsin and Shao, to proceed to Jehoi.

Arthur P. Stubbs, 65, Lynn Druggist, Dies

Arthur P. Stubbs, 65, druggist, died of a heart attack today at his home, 1 Addison ave., Lynn. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, one a maid a sister.

He had been prominent in Lynn as an entomologist. He was a graduate of the Massachusetts Pharmaceutical College and a member of the Nuttall Club of Harvard University.

Swampscott Tax Rate Up 90 Cents

Swampscott's tax rate will be increased 90 cents to $28.65, Chairman Maxfield of the assessors announced today. Last year's rate was $28.65.

The reason for the increase, he said, was a general decrease in town receipts, particularly income tax returns which fell off $28,000. The total valuation is $28,815,461, an increase of $127,664.

Out 10 Days, Man Is in Again for Theft

Jeremiah Tuncio of Worcester arrested more than a dozen times in two years and paroled from state prison only 10 days ago, was arrested today by Special Officers McCarthy and Conley for larceny of number plates and attempted larceny of a car by wireless check.

He was held in $2000 until Aug. 1 and Police Officer Frank Lonsigan began an investigation.

Chinese Boy Loses Deportation Fight

Judge Lowell in U. S. court today denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus for Wong Doh Ngan, 17, who has been denied admittance to this country. Wong claims to be the son of a native American citizen, Wong Fong, now dead.

Immigration officials claim the youth failed to establish relationship and ordered him deported.

Pennsy Train in Crash; No One Hurt

Hamlet, Ind., July 10 (IN)—Train No. 15 of the Pennsylvania system went off the rails here today, on its way from New York to Chicago. No one was hurt.

Pullman coaches left the tracks, only the locomotive and last car standing.

Spanked Girl, 18, Sues for $40,000

Topeka, Kans., July 10 (AP)—Twenty thousand dollars for a spanking is what Miss Georgia Hill, 18, desires. She has filed suit saying schoolmates at Goodland, Kan., stretched her across an auto fender and paddled her with a stogie.

BRUTALITY BALKS JUSTICE, TURNS PUBLIC ON POLICE

Miss Margaret Lane, staff member of the London Daily Express and now guest writer for International News Service, amazed at the police "third degree" methods as exhibited in the killing of Hyman Stark, contrasts in the following story the American and British attitudes toward such exposures.

By MARGARET LANE

New York, July 10.—The murder of Hyman Stark removes the last vestige of doubt from the minds of a hitherto incredulous public. Brutal third-degree methods are used by the police. This can no longer be denied.

JUSTICE BOOMERANG

The fatal results of these torture methods, what is more, may have been often concealed, as the death of Stark, as the guards of the Sunbeam prison camp near Jacksonville, Fla., tried to conceal the torture death of Arthur Mallory, as Capt. P. H. Randall, superintendent of the Springfield County road camp, in Georgia, tried to conceal the recent murder of J. T. Lassiter, Negro convict, by reporting it as death from sunstroke.

It is a fast-growing record of horror, quite as prejudicial to this country in the eyes of the world as the criminal element these crimes are committed to suppress.

On Friday last a brutal assault was committed on a woman in Roslyn Heights, Long Island. She was robbed and beaten by four men, who were almost immediately caught. Their punishment would have been a severe one, and public indignation was strongly against the assassins.

But the victim of the assault was the mother of a policeman, and because of that a further crime has been committed which has quite evidently turned public sympathy away from the police and inclined it toward the thugs.

Apart from the sheer horror of murdering a prisoner by beating him with rubber hose and breaking his spine's apple by pressing it in with their thumbs, the Minneapolis police have given a shining example of how fragrant a miscarriage of justice this "ready justice" really is.

In England, where the police force is unarmed, and such cases of police brutality are unheard of, rumors of American "third degree" have always been received a little incredulously. Now, however, opinion of this country's police procedures has suffered a severe change, beginning with the death of the English girl, Violet Sharpe, who committed suicide last month after extensive questioning on the Lindbergh kidnapping.

LAW UNDEFEATED THERE

The death of Arthur Mallory threw further light on possible atrocities of the American penal system. The death of Stark has focused attention on American police brutality, while the death of the Negro convict at the hands of the Springfield superintendent will only heighten.

In England a criminal never can use that weapon against the police that he was man-handled. The dancer manager said Curran had a good chance to win first prize and agreed to pay $10 weekly toward the alimony—as long as Curran kept dancing.

NO BOBBIES MURDERED

The opinion is occasionally expressed that these "rough and ready" police methods are a great deterrent to crime; that the common knowledge among criminals that such-and-such a state deals roughly with criminals and suspects is enough to make them steer clear of such a district, and the State of New Jersey is often cited as an example by people who overlook the Lindbergh case.

The result of the difference between the police methods in England and America is apparent in the popular attitude toward the police in both countries.

The English "Bobby," thoroughly respected by criminals, is regarded everywhere in the identical possible light. He is unarmed, but there has only been one notable case in the last 10 years of a policeman being murdered.

In this country, on the other hand, the "cop" is exchanging his role as protector of the law for one of "tough guy" and many of them are murderers. Surely, the basis of the American judicial system is not that crime shall be paid in its own coin?

If He Stops Dance He Pays Alimony

Philadelphia, July 10 (AP)—Sore feet or trouble are Charles Curran's alternatives. While he was engaged in a Marathon dance, police arrived to serve a warrant for non-payment of alimony. The dancer manager said Curran had a good chance to win first prize and agreed to pay $10 weekly toward the alimony—as long as Curran kept dancing.

$5000 South Boston Lumber Yard Fire

Damage estimated at $5000 was caused early today by a fire of undetermined origin in the lumber yard of John A. Whittemore & Sons, South Boston. A second alarm was sounded when the flames threatened to spread to the adjoining lumber yard of the John C. McLaughlin Company.

The fire destroyed the first story of the 1½-story office building as well as a quantity of lumber.

Crops Aid Politics

Saskatoon, Sask., July 10 (AP)—Saskatoon farmers are raising an acre of grain this year for politics. Each supporter of the farm political movement in Saskatchewan has been asked to contribute the one-acre crop in the campaign fund.

DE VALERA WINS TARIFF FIGHT

Dublin, July 10 (IN)—President De Valera stands a victor today in his campaign for reprisals against England in the dispute over land annuities, but to win his triumph he has sacrificed life-long friendships and increased the political tension in the Irish Free State.

The Senate, as was expected, passed the tariff reprisal measure on second reading and will take up the bill tomorrow for final action. The enactment of the Senate session was an attack on the Valera by Senator Sean Mitro, long-time friend of the President and once his fellow-prisoner in an English jail.

Senator Mitro described the state policy as a "hideous, nation-endangering thing which is going to plunge the country into misery, chaos and destitution."

YOUTH TARRED AND FEATHERED

Cornwall, Ont., July 10 (AP)—Charles Osborne, 22, is in the hospital today as a result of a tar and feather outrage perpetrated in a lonely section 10 miles east of here Sunday night.

Osborne claimed he was crossing a little used trail from one concession line to another when four masked men leaped on him, partly drenched him and applied a tar roofing compound and feathers to his face, head and body.

pot roast has new zest when spread before cooking with GULDEN'S Mustard

Drink Coca-Cola

Delicious

The Better the Drink
the More You Enjoy Lunch

There's nothing better to set off hot weather food than the snap and tingle of ice-cold Coca-Cola. People go where they find it. Millions flock to the soda fountain for lunch.

Buy Coca-Cola in bottles at food dealers to serve at home

THE DRINK THAT MAKES A PAUSE REFRESHING

Send For This Book Today!

When you love this little book, big with ideas covering all social occasions at home—containing 128 pages with beautiful illustrations... Use the coupon below.

COCA-COLA CO.
600 PLUM ST., N.W.
ATLANTA, GA.

Enclosed find 10¢ (stamps or coin to cover cost of handling and mailing for which send me the book, "When You Enter-tain," by Ida Bailey Allen.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____

ATHLETES REST FOR GAMES

SQUAD FIGHT FOR SUPREMACY TEST

By LAWSON ROBERTSON
Chief Coach American Olympics Team

Palo Alto, Cal., July 19—All of us realize today the full truth in the old adage that "the victor belongs the spoils," and the realization brings sadness to those who are the victors.

Less than three weeks ago over 200 collegians arrived on the Pacific slope to try for glory and Olympic fame through the medium of the intercollegiate 4-4 competition. All but 50 odd were eliminated.

Later hundreds came who had an affiliation with that organization but had earned their chance to compete in the trials.

These men are being honored and entertained and fêted by the barest fractions of seconds in track events, or by the scant margin of fractional inches in the finish.

I have said before and repeat now, that never in history have we had a group of athletes comparable with those who finish throughout the country. It is well that the selections have been left to the result of competition rather than to an electing committee.

In the latter case, many blunders would have been made. In the former it is well that the selections have been left to the result of competition rather than to an electing committee.

Yet, when the final tests came, Ralph Metcalfe, the heretofore unknown sprinter sensation, shot to the fore like a meteor and the so-called "oldsters," like Eddie Tophino and George Simpson, coupled their regal form, their winning record and experience and ran the Kelsels, the Wykoffs and the others out of contention.

One bookmaker would have wagered 100,000 to 1 that Wykoff Tophino and Keisel would not all be eliminated. They would have eliminated the same odds that Gene Venzke, holder of the unofficial world's record for 100 meters and the mile, certainly would finish third or better in the trials.

Those who qualified to battle under the American standard in the Olympics in Los Angeles now are partaking to the limit of the victor that belongs to the triumphant.

They are guests of honor here in these parts and will be until tomorrow. Then they will go to Los Angeles and prepare for the beginning of the major tests against the greatest in the world.

All of our boys have been in hard training for a long time. They deserve a respite. They will get it. They can have a losing rest. They are on edge. All we need to do is show that. This can be done by a few days of light training next week, followed by one or two afternoon of grinding just before the real battle begins.

I have always felt that our modern athletes with definite greatness are beaten over because of being over-trained but by lack of control. It is my conclusion, based upon nearly 30 years of athletic endeavor or coaching, that most tutors are inclined to over-train their boys too hard.

Because of this conviction there will be no crowding of our team.

New Big Innings Game to Open Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Thursday and Friday, the Boston Evening American will print entry blanks for the new Big Innings contest, entries for which close at midnight, Friday, July 22.

The contest, which accepts baseball fans to demonstrate their skill in picking each day excepting Sunday the inning in which the highest number of runs are scored in the ten major leagues, continues in strict thousands of baseball fans.

The rules are simple, and the awards for the winners are generous. The Big Innings Contest Editor is still deeply buried in entries of last week, and he asks all those who submitted a correct estimate to communicate with him at the Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop st., Boston.

The correct estimate for the contest, which ended last Friday, was: 2-7-1-1-7-1.

SCORES BY INNINGS OF ALL BIG LEAGUE GAMES MONDAY

AM. LEAGUE	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	R	H	E
Boston	2	0	0	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	4	9	0
Cleveland	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	11	1
Chicago	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	4	6	1
Detroit (1)	3	0	2	0	1	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	8	13	1
Detroit (2)	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	6	1
New York	0	4	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	6	8	1
Philadelphia	1	0	0	0	1	0	3	3	0	0	0	0	8	13	0
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	2	1	1	12	1
Washington (1)	0	0	2	2	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	6	13	1
Washington (2)	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	6	3

NAT. LEAGUE

Brooklyn	0	2	0	1	0	0	2	2	0	0	0	0	7	11	2
Chicago	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	3	6	5
New York	0	0	2	0	2	1	0	8	0	0	0	0	13	20	0
Pittsburgh	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	1	0	0	0	0	4	10	1
St. Louis	0	0	1	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	0	4	7	2
Philadelphia	0	2	0	1	0	1	0	1	0	1	0	0	5	13	3
TOTALS	7	12	8	5	8	8	6	0	1	0	0	0	70	164	23

HIGH INNINGS

Saturday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
6	8

(Big Innings Game copyrighted in its entirety, 1932, by T. A. Robertson. All rights reserved.)

Baseball Dope in Brief

National League

STANDING JULY 18, 1932	W.	L.	P.C.	G.B.
1-Brooklyn	48	34	285	—
2-Chicago	47	38	253	74
3-ST. LOUIS	46	42	223	9
4-Philadelphia	44	45	209	75
5-Brooklyn	44	45	209	75
6-Chicago	44	45	209	75
7-St. Louis	44	45	209	75
8-New York	38	44	163	10
9-Cincinnati	40	55	126	11

*Standing July 18, 1932.
†Games behind leaders.

GAMES TODAY

Boston at Cincinnati	Philadelphia at Pittsburgh (2)
New York at Chicago (2)	Brooklyn at St. Louis

AT ST. LOUIS		R H E
Brooklyn	0 3 0 1 0 0 2 3—7 11 2
St. Louis	0 0 1 0 0 3 0 0—4 7 1 2
Batteries—Mungo, Shaete and Lopez; Haines, Stout, Charles and J. Wilson.		and Berg; Collinsman, Burke, Marberry and Berg.
AT CINCINNATI (second game)		Detroit, 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0—2 6 3 1
		Washington, 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 2 3 1
AT NEW YORK		Chicago, 0 3 0 0 0 0 0 11—4 6 2 2
		N. York, 0 4 3 0 0 0 0 11—6 8 1 1
Batteries—Gaston, Gregory and Berkx; Plummer and Jorgens.

AT CHICAGO

N. York 0	0	2	1	0	0	0	12	0
Cleveland 2	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0

AT PITTSBURGH (11 innings)

Phila. 2	0	1	0	0	1	0	1	12	1
Pitts. 0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	10	0

Batteries—Hall, Stout, Carlson and Wilson.

Brooklyn 3	0	10	0	2	—	11	2
St. Louis 0	0	10	0	3	0	0	7

AT CLEVELAND

N. York 0	0	2	1	0	0	0	12	0
Cleveland 2	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	0

AT PITTSBURGH (11 innings)

Phila. 2	0	1	0	0	1	0	1	12	1
Pitts. 0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	10	0

Batteries—Hall, Stout, Carlson and Wilson.

ROGERS FINDS GENTLEMAN

Continued from Page 4

ed training out of it, and if they are any good, a fortune before they retire in 15 or 20 years, with a whole life ahead of them to enjoy. And it's good for the sport. It makes the game less rough, less tough, more decent and more intelligent.

Washburn hopes, when he quits the ring, to manage and promote. It's the only game he knows, he says. All his life has been in it. That is his intention. Not Hollywood! I asked. Apparently not. There's money in Hollywood, any more. The champion—and you can see that Jack Washburn expects to be champion—can make more money at his own game. And Jack doesn't deny that he is out for the money.

But I thought I should like to ask him as Tarsan. He played in a Tarsan film, once, he said, but in a movie, wearing a wild animal. But he would make a good Tarsan, if he looked as I saw him, stripped later, up on the road, stripped, expending that huge chest of his. I asked. Hopkins said that fine old walrus of a Virginian gentleman, in evening dress. His hand print must have measured two feet across. Jack Washburn would measure three feet. He'd look well in evening clothes, too, and the manager to go with him.

I asked him why his audiences booed him. He thought it was because they sympathized with the under dog and so they booed him. He guessed the Boston crowd didn't think his show was good. He didn't seem to care much either way.

That was the impression I got of Jack Washburn, as he sat in the cool shaded dining room sipping his coffee and answering questions in that warm, soft, reassuring voice of his. He spoke with almost no emphasis and almost no gestures. He never laughed out loud, but his smile was well-remembered, and he seemed to be a self-conscious, pompous, egotistical fellow. Washburn did not use any big words but all the words he used were right.

Fifteen minutes later I saw him in an open ring under the blazing sun, surrounded by most of the pugilist and adult male population of Boston. He was working out with Bill Nelson.

LIKE JAPANESE DEMON Two famous actors, Sir Henry Irving and the Frenchman Comquell, once had a famous controversy about acting. Irving held that an actor must get himself all worked up before he went on and take the stage in a rage. Comquell held that an actor should be calm and walk on in cold play.

I wish I knew about Washburn's theory. Fifteen minutes before he was cool and quiet and a gentleman. Now, his brown body all shining with oil, he was a Japanese demon on an old screen. His eyebrows met in a scowl; his eyes slanted and squinted. His mouth was a snarl. I couldn't hear him but he sounded as if he were cursing the partner and the world in general. And he was alarming Bill Nelson about in a manner I call vicious, with an occasional poke with elbow, knee or hand that was no love tap. He was a fighting devil.

I imagine that what he does to Mr. DeGlane will be worth seeing.

Matty and Honus Idols of M'Graw

By EDWARD J. NEIL

New York, July 19 (AP)—Wandering back over fifty years of baseball, seeing them come and go from the glimmerous days of the legendary Baltimore Orioles down through the Powderhouse Yankees and Athletics of the past half dozen years, John McGraw sees two unsurpassable figures—Christy Mathewson and Honus Wagner.

"Big Sis" was the greatest pitcher McGraw ever hopes to see; calm, courageous, baffling in his skill and control. Honus, the "Flying Dutchman" of Pittsburgh, was the game's greatest all-around ball player, and the retired manager of the New York Giants says that with a full realization of the mightiness of Babe Ruth.

"Did you ever realize," he asked as he swung back and forth contentedly, "the vast chasm between his desk, that Mathewson had all the stuff of both right and left-handed pitchers?"

The idea seemed to be brand new. "That fadaway was almost the exact duplicate of a southpaw's curve. In other words, he batted in on a right-handed batter, instead of away from, as a right-handed pitcher's curve normally does."

MOST FAMOUS OF CURVES All of which called for a technical explanation of probably the most famous curve in all baseball history.

Christy threw the fadaway between his third and fourth fingers.

The result was a curve he kept in, and that broke slowly toward a right-handed batter. If it had been faster it would have been what we called an "in-shoot" when we were kids.

"That was the duplicate of a southpaw's curve. He had the curves of both a left-hander and a right-hander, something no other pitcher in history ever possessed."

Ever since Christy passed along pitchers have been trying to develop that curve, but none has ever done it. It took the longest, most powerful fingers I ever saw on a pitcher to throw that ball. No one yet has appeared with that equipment.

SINKER NO COMPARISON "A lot of experts think that the curve they call a 'sinker' today was something like Mathewson's fadaway. There was no comparison."

Some time ago, when the greatest ball player of all time was under discussion, McGraw was asked the status of Ty Cobb.

"Why Cobb?" he asked in surprise, "was just an outfielder." He does not think that of Ty Cobb and there have been times when he even considered the Bambino the greatest of them all, but he always came back to Wagner in the end.

He covered all the ground there was between second and third. "What more can you ask of a ball player?"

MAGIC FAILS to "Raise the Devil!"

The photo on the left was taken at the conclusion of the experiment. Miss Bohn fired the shot from the coat. There was no Satan.

Satan Is Summoned in Weird Experiment on German Mountain Peak to Discourage Superstition — BUT — Devil Fails to Appear Despite All Inducements

ONE of the most unusual experiments ever performed in modern times was carried out late last month by several English and German leaders of psychical research. It was held on the Broken Mountain, a peak in the Harz range in Germany.

Back in the Middle Ages this peak was supposed to be the favorite evil of Satan from his fiery home. Members of some cults still believe that evil spirits have their abode there.

And the rapid increase of such cults prompted the scientists to conduct the mystic experiment which, it was expected, would have "raised the devil."

Satan, of course, did not appear. But the experiment—with its magical gestures and ancient incantations—was undoubtedly the strangest performance ever planned in one day. Complete details of the weird rites are described in one of the articles in next Sunday's American Weekly. Be sure to read it. It'll thrill you!

More Features... In Next Sunday's AMERICAN WEEKLY

THE AMERICAN WEEKLY

— America's most interesting Weekly Magazine —

Distributed every Sunday with

SUNDAY ADVERTISER

Largest Sunday Circulation in New England

INDOOR SPORTS

TALKING ABOUT OLD LADY LUCK IN THE SCOFFAW GOLF C. MOORE

IN A HARD LUCK GUY, AS EDDIE BRANNICK SAYS I WAS BORN WITH 2 STRIKES ON ME—SOMEONE STOLE THE QUART RING OUT OF MY COCKET

I THINK MARVIN IS LUCKY—SOMEONE STOLE HIS QUART, BUT ANOTHER DEAK HIS HAND HE AINT RIGHT YET—YES STILL HEARING BAND PLAYING

ANGUS IS THE UNLUCKY GUY—IF HE FELL OFF A 15-STOREY BUILDING HE'D BUILD A PAIR A JUST MAN

ANY LUCK, WILSON?

WILSON: I COULDN'T HEAR HIM BUT HE SOUNDED AS IF HE WERE CURSING THE PARTNER AND THE WORLD IN GENERAL. AND HE WAS ALARMING BILL NELSON ABOUT IN A MANNER I CALL VIOLENT, WITH AN OCCASIONAL POKES WITH ELBOW, KNEE OR HAND THAT WAS NO LOVE TAP. HE WAS A FIGHTING DEVIL.

I imagine that what he does to Mr. DeGlane will be worth seeing.

INDOOR SPORTS

TALKING ABOUT OLD LADY LUCK IN THE SCOFFAW GOLF C. MOORE

IN A HARD LUCK GUY, AS EDDIE BRANNICK SAYS I WAS BORN WITH 2 STRIKES ON ME—SOMEONE STOLE THE QUART RING OUT OF MY COCKET

I THINK MARVIN IS LUCKY—SOMEONE STOLE HIS QUART, BUT ANOTHER DEAK HIS HAND HE AINT RIGHT YET—YES STILL HEARING BAND PLAYING

ANGUS IS THE UNLUCKY GUY—IF HE FELL OFF A 15-STOREY BUILDING HE'D BUILD A PAIR A JUST MAN

ANY LUCK, WILSON?

WILSON: I COULDN'T HEAR HIM BUT HE SOUNDED AS IF HE WERE CURSING THE PARTNER AND THE WORLD IN GENERAL. AND HE WAS ALARMING BILL NELSON ABOUT IN A MANNER I CALL VIOLENT, WITH AN OCCASIONAL POKES WITH ELBOW, KNEE OR HAND THAT WAS NO LOVE TAP. HE WAS A FIGHTING DEVIL.

I imagine that what he does to Mr. DeGlane will be worth seeing.

HURED SLEUTHS PROBE DEATH OF REYNOLDS

Winston Salem, N. C., July 19 (INS)—Private detectives, presumably hired by the family of Zachary Smith Reynolds, who lost his life in the R. J. Reynolds tobacco fortune, today were investigating the mysterious death of the 25-year-old millionaire.

The operatives were apparently working separately from the official investigation. Reynolds was found on his sleeping porch with a bullet through his head after a birthday party for one of his friends.

Sheriff Trammell Scott would not issue a denial of the report that W. M. Reynolds, uncle of the dead boy, had approved the hiring of private investigators.

"If there have been private detectives employed to work on this case, I have not been officially informed of the matter," he said. The sheriff admitted he would welcome such aid.

The presence of these outside detectives caused a further report to circulate that Richard J. Reynolds, 26, brother of Smith, had entered the United States en route from Africa, and that he had approved a searching investigation.

Sheriff Scott said that he had made "good progress" in his investigation.

The liquor used at the party will be analyzed to determine if there were any possible sedatives or drugs present in its contents.

3 DROWNED IN BAY STATE

Three persons are dead today, victims of drowning, while several others are recovering after narrow escapes from death in Massachusetts waters yesterday.

THE DEAD:
FREDERICK, Abel P., 40, of Waverly st., Everett.
DEGIN, Wesley A., 18, of Bismarck st., Haverhill.
GUERTIN, Margaret, 14, of Worcester.

Two Boston nurses and an inmate at Massachusetts Memorial Hospital were saved from drowning at Salisbury Beach by lifeguards.

Two Wollaston boys and a girl were rescued after they clung to their capsized sailboat for 20 minutes off Hingham's Island. An 8-year-old boy was rescued at his depth a large rubber ball in Little River, Haverhill.

Fridman was drowned in Lake Quannapissett, Wakefield, late yesterday when he fell from a board while stunting in a hired outboard motorboat.

The Durbin boy was drowned when he was carried beyond his depth a large rubber ball in Little River, Haverhill.

Death Takes Dunbar of Vaudeville Team

New York, July 19 (AP)—Charles Dugan, 31, widely known vaudeville actor, died suddenly today of indigestion in his apartment in Central park west.

Dugan and his wife, Madeline, who was with him when he died, had appeared for 35 years as Charles and Madeline Dunbar, impersonators.

Newton Board to Pass on Permits

Power to grant permits for sand and gravel pits in Newton was voted by the board of aldermen today after passage of an amendment to the city ordinances passed by the aldermen last night.

The change in the law is designed to prevent annoyance to residents.

Air Group to Open Membership Drive

The American Association for the Advancement of Aviation, the growth of the High School Aviation League, plans a drive for membership throughout New England with an all day flying trip from Quonset, next Sunday, on which representatives from the 14 state branches are expected.

Thieves Get $100 in Roxbury Break

Thieves broke into the New England Magnolia Company plant at 278 Heath st., Roxbury, today, sacked several desks in the office and stole $100 from the safe after breaking off the combination.

Police secured several fingerprints.

SHRINERS MAKE WHOOPEE

Boston Shriners on way to convention in San Francisco make whoopee in Chicago. In the group are Steve Mathison, A. B. Sienberg, Ted Leland and "Sport" Herman, all raising a cheer as Betty Fay, daughter of R. T. Fay, potentials of Alpheus Temple, grinds the "whoopie" machine. (International News Photos.)

FAKE WARRIORS FOOL SHRINERS IN AXE FIGHT

Mendon, N. D., July 19.—The engineer of a train taking 120 shriners from Massachusetts to San Francisco for the national convention, braked his special to stop near Mendon, N. D., after a series of minor explosions.

Children screamed, a few women fainted and men hid their wallets as painted Indians dashed from behind rocks and trees and bonfire the train.

The passengers viewed the situation with alarm, but the red men extended a welcome hand instead of a tomahawk and made known they were fellow Shriners welcoming the travelers to the west.

The 40 Indians remained on board to Mendon, where 10 real Sioux warriors presented Shriners officials war bonnets and Indian names.

Can You Keep a Secret?

—By Arthur (Bugs) Baer—

Last will and testament of seventy-second Congress ignores public and leaves the money to close relatives.

There is an inflated estate of two billion dollars to be handed. This will jack up the ear. But where's the snare tires?

The only qualification necessary for heirs from the Finance Corporation is to be able to keep a secret.

Nobody will know who gets the money until five months have collapsed.

That ain't a long time when you remember that we are still trying to discover where the money went in the Harding administration.

In December they will publish the list of mysterious borrowers and the worst we wish ourselves is that our name is on it.

It may be a good idea. But we wonder how long a blindfolded gambler would stay in business?

(Copyright, 1933. Distributed by Universal Service, Inc.)

N. Y. TRACIONS ARE HIGHER IN WALL ST.

By FRANK H. MEELOON

Trading on the New York Stock Exchange this forenoon was featured by advances of 10 to 20 points in New York Traction shares. The upturn followed request of the committee headed by J. P. Morgan and Charles Hayden that the Interior Rapid Transit stockholders deposit their securities in favor of unification.

This was generally accepted as conclusive evidence that a strongly-sponsored unification plan for New York tractions was under way.

Prices were mixed elsewhere on the big list, and the Boston Stock Exchange. Price changes in the major bond list were irregular with U. S. Government issues strong.

Trains were higher in the Chicago pits. New York futures held steady.

List of Wall Street stock follows:

High Low 12:00 Chg.
Air Reduction	34 1/2 35 3/4 + 1/2
Allied Chem.	48 1/2 49 1/2 + 1/2
Allis Chalm.	5 5/8 5 7/8 + 1/8
Am Can	23 1/2 23 3/4 + 1/4
Am & P Paper	2 1/2 2 3/4 + 1/4
Am Pwr & L	4 1/2 4 3/4 + 1/4
Am T & T	12 1/2 12 3/4 + 1/4
Am Tob B	54 5/8 55 1/4 + 1/2
Anacosta	—
Alcoa	23 1/2 23 3/4 + 1/4
Alk Refining	12 12 12
Albany	48 48 48 + 1/2
Beth Steel	9 9/16 9 5/8 + 1/16
Brooklyn Man	37 37 37
Do P	49 48 48 + 1/2
Can Pac	24 1/2 24 3/4 + 1/4
Cas	24 1/2 24 3/4 + 1/4
Chas & Ohio	11 11 11 + 1/2
Coralis	70 70 70
Chrysler	6 6 6 + 1/2
Gen Motors	18 1/2 18 3/4 + 1/4
Cona Gas	36 36 36 + 1/2
Corn Prod	28 28 28 + 1/2
Drug Inc	27 27 27 + 1/2
Du Pont	22 22 22 + 1/2
Eastman Kod	21 21 21 + 1/2
Gen Electric	10 9 9 + 1/2
Gen Post	21 21 21 + 1/2
Gen Motors	18 1/2 18 3/4 + 1/4
Gillies & R	16 16 16 + 1/2
Gold Dust	11 10 10 + 1/2
Goodyear	8 8 8 + 1/2
Goth Oil	14 14 14 + 1/2
Houston Oil	11 11 11 + 1/2
Hudson Motor	60 60 60 + 1/2
Int Bus Mach	60 60 60 + 1/2
Int Nickel	12 12 12 + 1/2
Int T&T	4 4 4 + 1/2
Johns-Manville	31 31 31 + 1/2
Kelvinator	3 3 3 + 1/2
Kennecott	6 6 6 + 1/2
Kroger C & S	11 11 11 + 1/2
Mack Trucks	134 134 134 + 1/2
Mex Cel	12 12 12 + 1/2
Mont Ward	5 5 5 + 1/2
Nash Motors	10 10 10 + 1/2
Nat Biscuit	24 24 24 + 1/2
Nat Dairy Pro	15 15 15 + 1/2
Tex Corp	12 12 12 + 1/2
No Amer	16 16 16 + 1/2
Nor Pacific	9 9 9 + 1/2
Pack new wd	18 18 18 + 1/2
Pennsylvania	8 8 8 + 1/2
Pub Ser N. J.	32 32 32 + 1/2
Pullman Inc	14 14 14 + 1/2
Radio Corp	4 4 4 + 1/2
Sears Roebuck	12 12 12 + 1/2
Std Oil of N.J.	20 20 20 + 1/2
Tex Corp	12 12 12 + 1/2
Union Carbide	17 17 17 + 1/2
Union Pacific	20 20 20 + 1/2
Unit Aircraft	9 9 9 + 1/2
United Corp	4 4 4 + 1/2
Un Gas Imp	15 15 15 + 1/2
U S Steel	23 23 23 + 1/2
Western Union	15 15 15 + 1/2
Westinghouse	17 17 17 + 1/2
Woolworth	25 25 25 + 1/2

Liabilities of Lynn Firms $1,500,000

Schedules in bankruptcy filed by the A. E. Little Company and the Borois Manufacturing Company, both of Lynn, in Federal court as a result of creditor petitions recorded against them June 25, listed liabilities of more than $1,500,000.

Bonnet Tossed in Ring

Mrs. Maybelle A. Kelley of Watertown, president of the Massachusetts Women's Democratic Club, has taken out restraining papers as a candidate for the governor's council in the third congressional district, now represented by Mrs. Esther M. Andrews of Brookline.

Aged South End Man Dies

John C. Fitzgerald, 73, prominent resident of the South End and at his home, 14 Pelham st., following an illness of eight months.

Rescue Hero

James J. Clancy, Sheridan ave., Medford, rescuer of 15-year-old Marie Desmett, who was seized with cramps while swimming in Mystic river.

2 MEN BEAT UP N. Y. COUPLE

New York, July 19 (AP)—A man and his wife were found badly beaten early today in Southern boulevard, the Bronx. They were taken to Lincoln Hospital, where the woman's condition was described as serious.

Harry Weinstein, 40, of 225 East 172nd st., told police he and his wife were on their way to work at a beach supply store in Brooklyn when they were attacked by two men. Without warning, he said, the men began striking them over the head. Weinstein fell to the sidewalk and Mrs. Weinstein was crowded by her assailant to a doorway, where she was pushed down a flight of stairs. She suffered a possible fracture of the skull and contusions.

The men were taken to the hospital at the time.

Metèr Fall Shakes German District

Heldelberg, Germany, July 19 (AP)—What was presumably a large meteorite fragment fell near here today with a flash and a shock which was felt for several miles.

Babies Mixed in Hospital to Be Traded After 12 Years

Glenshaw, Ger., July 19 (INS)—Recalling the famous Chicago baby mixup that attracted world-wide attention, Frau Marie Donk had a suit on file today to force Frau Malinda Beuth to exchange sons born 12 years ago in a maternity clinic.

The prospects appear excellent that she will win, although a furious controversy is raging in this city of 100,000 over the wisdom of making boys unhappy by giving them to natural parents who are really strangers.

Frau Donk declares she screamed and protested to nurses that they had brought her the wrong baby after she gave birth to a child in 1921. But the hospital authorities finally convinced her that their marking system was flawless and then could have been no error. Furthermore, they told her, there were only two baby boys in the hospital at the time.

She nursed the infant as tenderly as any mother, although, she now says, doubts often crept into her mind.

A few months ago she chanced to meet Heinrich, the son of Frau Beuth, on the street and found his resemblance to her eldest son so striking she became convinced she had been given the wrong baby, had been given the wrong baby.

Throughs Pray for Recovery of Aimee

Los Angeles, July 19 (INS)—Throughs remained in Angeleno Temple today praying for the recovery of their leader, Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson-Hutton, whose condition continues serious at her home in the Temple at Lake Elsinore.

"She is in an imminent danger," declared Dr. Edward H. Williams, "She needs rest and quiet. Her condition was satisfactory when I left Elsinore."

Prince George Now Navy Aide to King

London, July 19 (AP)—Prince George, youngest son of the king, has advanced another step in his naval career with appointment as personal naval aide-de-camp to his father. The prince has served in the navy for eight years.

PINEAPPLE

DOL'S BEST VACUUM PACKED

The world's finest pineapple. Nothing better for fruit up or sold. The lowest price this season.

2 LARGE TINS 29c

FLOUR

FIRST NATIONAL STORES

Here are two famous brands of flour reduced at very special low prices for this week only. Buy a large bag of each today and make a substantial saving.

Finest Bread Flour	LGE BAG	49c
Pastry Flour	LGE BAG	47c
CHEESE	LB	17c

MILD WHOLE MILK QUALITY—Serve with the pie or macaroni

Bakery Specials

COFFEE RINGS	2 For 27c
PLAIN RYE BREAD	Loaf 7c
N.B.C. COOKIE SPECIALS
Family Assortment	2 Lbs 25c
Susans	Lb Pkg 25c

SOAP SPECIALS

Lux Toilet Soap	3 Bar 19c
Lifebuoy	3 Bar 17c
Quick Arrow Soap	Lb Pkg 17c

BROOKSIDE HEAVY CREAM

From New England's finest dairies

2 1/2 Pint Jars	25c
-----------------	-----

Beans

RICHMOND CUT WAX OR GREEN	2 Tins 21c
Salada Tea	RED LABEL 1/2 Lb Pkg 41c
Libby's CORNED BEEF	2 Tins 29c
Geisha Tuna Fish	FANCY WHITE MEAT No 1 Tin 19c
Puritan Malt	2 1/2 Lb Tin 49c
Sliced Beef	FINEST 6 oz Jar 25c
Applesauce	3 No 2 Tins 25c
Mirabel Preserves	16 oz Jar 15c
Pineapple Del Monte	2 Lge Tins 29c
Ivory Soap	3 Lbs 25c
Cigarettes	POPULAR BRANDS 2 Pkgs 25c
E-Z Fruit Jars	12 Qts $1.09
Pickles SWEET MIXED	Q 29c
Belmont Bread	16 oz Loaf 5c
Prize Bread	Large Loaf 7c

FIRST NATIONAL STORES INC.

PRICES FOR BOSTON AND VICINITY

"SALADA"

ICED TEA

is delicious

"Try it just once"

Buckeye MALT SYRUP

DUO-MALTED VACUUM PACKED

If you've never tried Buckeye you've got a thrill coming. We promise you. Here is one malt that is quality plus. First of all, it's an all-barley malt. Then it is DUO-MALTED—made that wonderful strength and flavor. And it is VACUUM PACKED to keep all that flavor there for you to enjoy. Want a thrill? Try Buckeye.

PLAIN OR HOP FLAVOR—LIGHT OR DARK

MARK SAILS AWAY By Ruby M. Ayres

Continued From Page 14 Section

Flora's reflected glory, she supposed. He went on disjunctively.

"I shall send you every penny I can spare."

"He stopped again, only to break out with a note of agony in his voice."

"Don't forget me, Sandra..."

"She clung to him, weeping now, 'Don't go, Mark—don't leave me...ah, don't go.'"

"He tried to laugh, lifting her face to his."

"My darling, you know I must. But it won't be for very long—"

"He kissed her many times, on her forehead, on her cheek, on her lips, and she knew that he was not lying."

"For a little while, my dear."

"He let her go at last, and turned abruptly away as someone knocked at the door. 'Your suit, sir.'"

"Coming."

"RATHER HER EYES"

Sandra was bathing her eyes dry, trying to check her sobbing. Mark lit a cigarette and nudged at it fiercely.

"I suppose I must kiss you at the door."

"He came forward to kiss her, and she felt his lips on her cheek. 'One or two people I expect. Not more than the promised ones.'"

"He kissed her, and she felt his lips on her cheek. 'One or two people I expect. Not more than the promised ones.'"

"He kissed her, and she felt his lips on her cheek. 'One or two people I expect. Not more than the promised ones.'"

"He kissed her, and she felt his lips on her cheek. 'One or two people I expect. Not more than the promised ones.'"

"He kissed her, and she felt his lips on her cheek. 'One or two people I expect. Not more than the promised ones.'"

"He kissed her, and she felt his lips on her cheek. 'One or two people I expect. Not more than the promised ones.'"

"He kissed her, and she felt his lips on her cheek. 'One or two people I expect. Not more than the promised ones.'"

"He kissed her, and she felt his lips on her cheek. 'One or two people I expect. Not more than the promised ones.'"

Sandra stood where she was, staring blankly after the ship. —From "The Faithful Cheat."

"I shall write to you from every port. I'll cable too, Mark said. 'You must be too extravagant.'"

"LIPS TREMBLED"

"You'll always love me—faithfully, Sandra."

"With an effort she controlled her trembling lips."

"Always."

"The ship stopped."

"Sandra stood on the curb while Mark said the driver."

"He kept telling her resolutely, 'You must be too extravagant.'"

"Several men friends of Mark's joined them on the deck."

"Mark stood at the rail, smoking hard and talking coarsely."

"I suppose you'll all be dancing tonight," he said ruefully. "While I shall be tossing on the waves."

"Somebody asked, 'Hark! Anderson here!'"

"It was Sandra who answered. 'He was not sure if he could come.'"

"Already there were signs of departure, and she saw the ship slipping away from the group."

"I simply must see what your room is like," Sandra said."

"She stepped away from the group, at a moment he followed her, as she intended that it should."

"WARNING CALL"

"I can't hear it, Mark."

MARATHA LEE'S PAGE Od Idea of Tea Tanning Exploded by Scientists

All the females in my mother's family were inveterate tea drinkers. They had a cup to cheer them up on rising, another at breakfast, several in the forenoon, another at lunch, again in the afternoon, at dinner, and before retiring. And this is no old-time story! Worse than that they didn't make tea in the morning, poured on the boiling water, let it steep, drank what they wished then added more tea and more boiling water to the grounds already in the pot, and so on, until the tea had become a pretty nearly a put full cup of tea, which eventually were thrown out.

WARNING VOICED

Well I remember hearing an aunt on father's side of the house, solemnly warning a group of these tea drinking ladies, that their tummies would be tanned like a piece of leather, either, of course, tanning is used to tan leather. And every so often I hear some otherwise intelligent person voicing this superstition.

How to make it

Use an earthen or heat-proof glass teapot. Tea absorbs metallic tastes, which detract from its delicious aroma and flavor. First, the teapot should be rinsed with boiling water. Measure for tea, put 2 cups of tea in the pot for each cup of water and an extra cup for the pot. Next, pour the tea into tall glasses filled 3/4 with ice cubes or chopped ice, and serve immediately. Mix and stir to the food value of tea, but many prefer lemon and some like the spiced variety. A lemon slice, salt and pepper added to the drink.

A Healthy Fruit Salad

Drain one No. 2½ can chilled Hawaiian sliced pineapple and place in a bowl of crisp lettuce. Drain one No. 2½ can sliced small ripe pears and sprinkle with lemon juice. Mix together one No. 2½ can sliced apples and one-half cup chopped salad dressing. Mix and serve with salt and paprika.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Here's Dinner for Four at Only 25 Cents Each

It's entirely possible to serve an excellent dinner for 25c a person, providing your menu is chosen for taste and dietetic balance, and each dish is prepared with your heart in the work. Here's how:

Creamed Tuna Fish on Toast, 5c
Fried Potatoes, 8c
Orange and Pineapple Salad, 5c
Baking Bread and Butter, 10c
Apple Pie and Cheese, 5c

Season 1½ cups of medium white sauce with salt and pepper. Add a small can of tuna fish and heat thoroughly. Just before serving add 1 slightly beaten egg and paprika, celery salt to taste. Serve in rounds of hot buttered toast.

For the Pineapple Salad, cover slices of seedless oranges with pineapple dice. Serve with a dressing made by thinning down bottled dressing with pineapple-orange juice. Decorate with sliced maraschino cherries.

Frozen Cheese in Salad Form

1 cup of drained crushed pineapple.
2 tbsps. powdered sugar.
13 maraschino cherries.
1 pkg. cream cheese (1 lb.)
1 cup mayonnaise.
1 cup firm-whipped cream.

Drain the juice from the crushed pineapple and measure one level cup. Add 2 tbsps. of powdered maraschino cherries. Drain the juice from the crushed pineapple and measure one level cup. Add 2 tbsps. of powdered maraschino cherries.

Drain one No. 2½ can chilled Hawaiian sliced pineapple and place in a bowl of crisp lettuce. Drain one No. 2½ can sliced small ripe pears and sprinkle with lemon juice. Mix together one No. 2½ can sliced apples and one-half cup chopped salad dressing. Mix and serve with salt and paprika.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Plum pairs with this, dust them with paprika and place one on each slice of pineapple. Garnish with sliced maraschino cherries. The frozen mixture is cut in squares and served on crisp lettuce.

Grenadine Aspic
Is Summer Treat
Easy to Make for Sunday Supper

Disolve 1 tbs. granulated gelatin in ½ cup grenadine. Add 1½ cups boiling water and the juice of one-half lemon. When beginning to thicken, add diced bananas or other fruit. Mold individually and serve with whipped cream.

At all Economy Stores

KELLOGG'S CORN FLAKES

The Lowest Price We've Ever Seen!

4 PKGS 25c

Coffee Eco Brand 25c
Sliced Peaches 3 No 1 25c

NEEDLES

4 PKGS 15c

Blue Ribbon Malt 53c
Clorox Bleaches and cleans bottle 14c

Our New Regular Everyday Price!

American Dry TONICS

Your Choice of GINGER ALE

10c

Milk Select or Van Camps Evaporated tall can 5c

PORK LOAS

A very low price in view of present market prices.

SKYSCRAPER By Faith Baldwin

LYNN'S HEAD ACHED. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it.

There was no way to get free, to clear upward spiritually with the faint and escaping lovers.

Tom came that night, repentant. Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm an ass. Why shouldn't you be to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you, but you've had a chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon.

"That's all right. I should have told you before. Only, Tom, you've made me so sure of my own mind about David Dwight. There's no reason for me to be, you understand that, don't you?"

She was soft, appealing; she went to his arms and clung there, seeking, perhaps unconsciously, haven, protection. Jennie's decision had shaken her terribly. She felt ignorant and lost and miserable.

"Do love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

MARK SAILS AWAY By Ruby M. Ayres

Flora's reflected glory, she supposed. He went on disjunctively.

"I shall send you every penny I can spare."

"He stopped again, only to break out with a note of agony in his voice."

"Don't forget me, Sandra..."

"She clung to him, weeping now, 'Don't go, Mark—don't leave me...ah, don't go.'"

"He tried to laugh, lifting her face to his."

"My darling, you know I must. But it won't be for very long—"

"He kissed her many times, on her forehead, on her cheek, on her lips, and she knew that he was not lying."

"For a little while, my dear."

"He let her go at last, and turned abruptly away as someone knocked at the door. 'Your suit, sir.'"

"Coming."

"RATHER HER EYES"

MARK SAILS AWAY By Ruby M. Ayres

Flora's reflected glory, she supposed. He went on disjunctively.

"I shall send you every penny I can spare."

"He stopped again, only to break out with a note of agony in his voice."

"Don't forget me, Sandra..."

"She clung to him, weeping now, 'Don't go, Mark—don't leave me...ah, don't go.'"

"He tried to laugh, lifting her face to his."

"My darling, you know I must. But it won't be for very long—"

"He kissed her many times, on her forehead, on her cheek, on her lips, and she knew that he was not lying."

"For a little while, my dear."

"He let her go at last, and turned abruptly away as someone knocked at the door. 'Your suit, sir.'"

"Coming."

"RATHER HER EYES"

SKYSCRAPER By Faith Baldwin

LYNN'S HEAD ACHED. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it.

There was no way to get free, to clear upward spiritually with the faint and escaping lovers.

Tom came that night, repentant. Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm an ass. Why shouldn't you be to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you, but you've had a chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon.

"That's all right. I should have told you before. Only, Tom, you've made me so sure of my own mind about David Dwight. There's no reason for me to be, you understand that, don't you?"

She was soft, appealing; she went to his arms and clung there, seeking, perhaps unconsciously, haven, protection. Jennie's decision had shaken her terribly. She felt ignorant and lost and miserable.

"Do love you so much, Tom."

SKYSCRAPER By Faith Baldwin

LYNN'S HEAD ACHED. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it.

There was no way to get free, to clear upward spiritually with the faint and escaping lovers.

Tom came that night, repentant. Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm an ass. Why shouldn't you be to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you, but you've had a chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon.

"That's all right. I should have told you before. Only, Tom, you've made me so sure of my own mind about David Dwight. There's no reason for me to be, you understand that, don't you?"

She was soft, appealing; she went to his arms and clung there, seeking, perhaps unconsciously, haven, protection. Jennie's decision had shaken her terribly. She felt ignorant and lost and miserable.

"Do love you so much, Tom."

SKYSCRAPER By Faith Baldwin

LYNN'S HEAD ACHED. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it.

There was no way to get free, to clear upward spiritually with the faint and escaping lovers.

Tom came that night, repentant. Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm an ass. Why shouldn't you be to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you, but you've had a chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon.

"That's all right. I should have told you before. Only, Tom, you've made me so sure of my own mind about David Dwight. There's no reason for me to be, you understand that, don't you?"

She was soft, appealing; she went to his arms and clung there, seeking, perhaps unconsciously, haven, protection. Jennie's decision had shaken her terribly. She felt ignorant and lost and miserable.

"Do love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

SKYSCRAPER By Faith Baldwin

LYNN'S HEAD ACHED. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it.

There was no way to get free, to clear upward spiritually with the faint and escaping lovers.

Tom came that night, repentant. Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm an ass. Why shouldn't you be to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you, but you've had a chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon.

"That's all right. I should have told you before. Only, Tom, you've made me so sure of my own mind about David Dwight. There's no reason for me to be, you understand that, don't you?"

She was soft, appealing; she went to his arms and clung there, seeking, perhaps unconsciously, haven, protection. Jennie's decision had shaken her terribly. She felt ignorant and lost and miserable.

"Do love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

SKYSCRAPER By Faith Baldwin

LYNN'S HEAD ACHED. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it.

There was no way to get free, to clear upward spiritually with the faint and escaping lovers.

Tom came that night, repentant. Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm an ass. Why shouldn't you be to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you, but you've had a chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon.

"That's all right. I should have told you before. Only, Tom, you've made me so sure of my own mind about David Dwight. There's no reason for me to be, you understand that, don't you?"

She was soft, appealing; she went to his arms and clung there, seeking, perhaps unconsciously, haven, protection. Jennie's decision had shaken her terribly. She felt ignorant and lost and miserable.

"Do love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

SKYSCRAPER By Faith Baldwin

LYNN'S HEAD ACHED. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it.

There was no way to get free, to clear upward spiritually with the faint and escaping lovers.

Tom came that night, repentant. Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm an ass. Why shouldn't you be to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you, but you've had a chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon.

"That's all right. I should have told you before. Only, Tom, you've made me so sure of my own mind about David Dwight. There's no reason for me to be, you understand that, don't you?"

She was soft, appealing; she went to his arms and clung there, seeking, perhaps unconsciously, haven, protection. Jennie's decision had shaken her terribly. She felt ignorant and lost and miserable.

"Do love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

"To love you so much, Tom."

SKYSCRAPER By Faith Baldwin

LYNN'S HEAD ACHED. It seemed to her as she bent over her desk that the entire weight of the massive building was upon it.

There was no way to get free, to clear upward spiritually with the faint and escaping lovers.

Tom came that night, repentant. Jennie was out.

Tom said, "Lynn, I'm sorry. I'm an ass. Why shouldn't you be to Dwight's with Sarah? This summer's been hard on you, but you've had a chance to get away."

She said, instantly, responsive to his plea for pardon.

OK-COOS

By TED COOK

New York minister advocates compulsory college education as a means of solving the unemployment problem.

That's one way to make a start. It's a little problem of where to be employed.

EAST, WEST, HOME'S BEST

(Reuben item in the Lamer, Jan., Dec., 1931.)

Mrs. Jerry Wilkins and small daughter Mary Frances returned Saturday from Hollywood, California, where they have been staying the past six months. They have been in Hollywood looking over the prospects of placing Mary Frances, who is an unusually beautiful and talented child, in the Motion Pictures.

"Anyway," says Genevieve, "the kitchen cync, 'the country still has faith in the rule of the people is going to elect next time."

Q. and A. DEPARTMENT

Dear Sympathetic Aunt Bella—All day and all night a lot of cars are parked along the street where I live. Some of these cars stay there for weeks at a time. This not only makes it difficult for me to park my own car but convinces me that something should be done about it. What can I do? —ANNOYED.

Ans.—For one thing, Madam, you can poke your nose in other people's business mighty well. Pigeon down, is it Auntie B's fault that she has a charming personality? —Aunt (Home Body) Bella.

YEAH!

(Covers item.)

WASH IN G.—TON—Congratulatory anti-dry leaders are resigning themselves to at least two more Summers without beer and two more Winters without hot toddy.

WHATMAN No. 34256

(Framingham August 1932)

"We went to a restaurant in Hollywood," she testified, "I ordered turkey. Dave got it for me and fed me with his fork. I dropped my napkin and when he bent over to pick it up he kissed me on the knee."

Daily Crossword Puzzle

By EUGENE SHEFFER

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30
31	32	33	34	35	36	37	38	39	40
41	42	43	44	45	46	47	48	49	50
51	52	53	54	55	56	57	58	59	60

HORIZONTAL

1—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

2—What Englishman wrote "The Great Gatsby"?

3—A large lake in the United States.

4—A French city in the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

5—A French city in the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

6—A French city in the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

7—A French city in the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

8—A French city in the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

9—A French city in the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

10—A French city in the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

VERTICAL

11—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

12—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

13—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

14—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

15—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

16—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

17—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

18—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

19—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

20—What French city is the department of the Seine was a province of the French line of World War I.

It's Easy to Find A Pleasant Room In Any Locality!

Perhaps for one reason or another you would like to find a room in a different locality... yet you are too tired to hunt for one.

Ask the Free Rental Bureau for a List

Write or phone Marion Crosby at L.B. 4000 for a list. No cost or obligation... just a free service for readers of the

BOSTON AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England

THIMBLE THEATRE, starring POPEYE

ARE YOU THE TICKET-TAKER ON THIS FERRY BOAT? HERE'S MY TICKET. WHEN WILL WE BE ACROSS THE RIVER?

LADY—YOU'VE MADE A BIG MISTAKE! DO YOU MEAN TO INSINUATE THAT I DON'T KNOW WHAT I'M DOING?

YA GOT THE RIGHT TICKET, LADY, BUT THE WRONG SHIP.

WHAT! DOESN'T THIS FERRYBOAT GO ACROSS THE RIVER??

THIS AIN'T NO FERRY BOAT—AN WE AIN'T ON NO BLASTED RIVER—THIS IS THE PAFISIC OCEAN!

BRINGING UP FATHER

IT'S THE LAST THING I EVER DO, I'LL SEE THAT MISS LOTTA VOTES NEVER GETS THE ELECTION TO THE MAYOR'S OFFICE.

DID YOU CALL ME, DARLING?

I DID—DID YOU SEE IN THE PAPER WHERE MISS LOTTA VOTES IS GOING TO RUN FOR MAYOR OF THIS CITY?

HOW COULD I? I NEVER GOT A CHANCE TO SEE A PAPER IN THIS HOUSE.

OH, SHUT UP—LISTEN TO ME, THAT WOMAN MUST BE DEFEATED AND I AM GOING TO PUT UP A CANDIDATE TO DEFEAT HER AND WHO DO YOU SUPPOSE IT IS?

POLLY AND HER PALS

AN' DON'T YOU DARE COME BACK TILL YOU'VE SAW A DOCTOR ABOUT YOUR POISON-IVY!!

DANIEL DOPEM M.D.

LISTEN, STRANGER, HAVE YOU ANY IDEA WHEN THE DOCTOR'LL SHOW UP?

I AM THE DOCTOR! WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU?

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

CHAMBER—WHAT I'LL SAY WE ARE THE SAME SIZE? MY CLOTHES FIT YOU BETTER THAN THEY FIT ME!

THE LUCKIEST THING I CAN THINK OF IS MEETING A BIG-HEARTED GUY—I'LL KEEP A MIND OBLIGED AN' THANKS—BUT I WISH I KNEW THE RIGHT KINDA WORDS TO TELL YOU HOW SWEET I THINK YOU ARE!

PLEASE, ANNIE—FORGET IT—YOU'D DO THE SAME FOR ME IN THE SAME NOW WOULDN'T YOU?

GEE, NANCY—I'D BE TICKLED PURPLE TO HAVE A CHANCE TO DO YOU A FAVOR.

BUT JUST THE SAME, BEING WILLING TO GIVE SOMETHING TO SOMEBODY WHEN YA AIN'T GOT NOTHING—AINT THE SAME AS REALLY HAVING SOMETHIN'—AN' REALLY GIVING IT TO SOMEBODY WHO AIN'T GOT NOTHING!

BARNEY GOOGLE

WE ONLY GOT A $4.62 IN THE BANK, SULLY—I WENT UP TO THE WINDER YESTERDAY TO DRAW IT OUT—BUT THE GUY TALKED TOO FAST FOR ME—I LISSSEN—YOU AIN'T NO HUNGRIERN I AM—SO QUIT SQUAWKIN'!

MR. GOOGLE—YOU SEEM TO FORGET THAT I AM CONSTANTLY EXERCISING—EVEN AN ENGINE NEEDS FUEL!

COME ALONG WITH ME—I'LL SEE THAT YOU GET FILLED UP!!

YOU WANT HERE, OL' BOY—I'LL TRY AN' DIG UP SOME DOUGHNUTS!

A Liquid Debt

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

YOU DON'T THINK THERE'S ANY CHANCE OF THE WAGON BEING A SURPRISE ATTACK ON THE BOY?

WITH BEETLE ON BOARD, TIM, WE HAVE NO NEED TO FEAR—

—AN' WHAT'S MORE, IF ANYBODY DOES SLIP PAST HIM, THEY CAN'T PASS MY BLEEPIN' WAGON! I'LL GIVE 'EM A GOOD WATCHIN' MY MAN!

SLEEP TIGHT, TIMMY, MASSA! I'LL BE GOOD WATCHIN' MY MAN!

Creeping Shadow

KRAZY KAT

PRIDE, POISE, POSTURE—LOOK AT THE SWISH OF THAT ROYAL TAIL! I CALL IT VOZZA!

AND MAYBE I CAN'T SWISH A TIDY TAIL MYSELF—JUST HEAR IT SWISH!

Remarks from the Gallery

DEEP AND OMINOUS, ARE VALUED FOR THE POWER OF THE POWER—THE POWER HAS CAST ITS MAGIC SPELL OVER THE GALLERY SILENTLY.

